Baby Shower Bingo

How To Play

Print out the amount of cards required for your baby shower day.

For a better finish to the cards use thicker card stock if possible to print the games out on.

Print one additional card off and use this as your master copy.

Using the master copy cut the individual squares out, you should end up with one word per square on each piece of paper you have cut out.

Place the squares you have just cut out into a bag and draw the squares out of the bag one at a time. Call out what is on the square and allow a little time for your baby shower guests to place their markers over the word on their baby girl bingo card.

You continue to draw out the words one at a time and read the word out, once again giving your guests enough time to cover the word with their markers. You continue to do this until someone shouts out BINGO and they have filled in a row either ( horizontally, diagonally or vertically)

If the player does not call out BINGO their game would become void and you would continue with the game until the next person shouts out BINGO and has a ( horizontal, diagonal or vertical ) line complete. You could leave the game here, or continue for a full house.

FULL HOUSE

The players will need to leave their markers on the board from the previous line game and continue to cover their squares as the caller shouts out each word from the hat.

The first person to cover all their squares on the bingo board and shouts out BINGO wins the full house game.

ALTERNATIVE PLAY

Instead of using a ( horizontal, diagonal or vertical ) line for the one line bingo game, you can also use the four corners of the board.

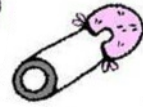

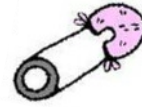

Once all four corners are covered the player shouts out BINGO and wins the four corner game.

You can then continue to the full house game.
